'Business Day' means a day on which banks are open for business in Melbourne but excluding a Saturday, Sunday, public holiday, 'Business Day next to a public holiday', or such other day as we may determine from time to time.

'Business Day next to a public holiday' means the Business Day immediately prior to or following a public holiday.

An investment in the Fund is subject to investment risk, including loss of income and capital invested. Neither Invesco nor any other member of the Invesco Ltd group of companies guarantees the repayment of capital, the payment of income, or the performance of the Fund. Furthermore, Invesco does not guarantee that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.

Invesco may create separate classes of units in the Fund at any time. Separate classes of units will be for investors that meet certain criteria, such as an investment above a minimum amount. Separate classes are likely to be available only for wholesale clients (as defined in the Corporations Act 2001). A minimum investment criterion would require investment of an amount that will not be less than $1 million.

If a separate class of units is created in the Fund, investors in the separate class will not be able to invest through this PDS. They will be required to invest through a separate offer document relevant to that class. Holders of different classes of units will be treated fairly.

About managed funds

Giving you access to financial markets

The Fund is a type of investment known as a 'managed fund'. A managed fund pools the money of a number of individual investors to acquire the Fund's underlying assets. In many cases, these are assets individual investors may find difficult to access directly because of the large minimum investment amounts or the difficulty of investing in certain markets.

When you invest in a managed fund, your interests are in the form of 'units' based on the amount you invest. (More information about how units are allocated and valued may be found on page 8.)

The Fund is a managed investment scheme, structured as a unit trust and registered under the Corporations Act 2001.

As the 'responsible entity' of the Fund in charge of its overall management, we are guided by the investment objective and strategy that has been set for the Fund, and by its governing constitution. In return for managing and administering a fund, investment managers charge certain fees. Fee details are on pages 10 to 12.

Different types of funds to suit your needs

There are many kinds of managed funds that may or may not be suitable for you, depending on your personal goals and what stage of your investment journey you are at. Some focus on providing regular income by investing in income-producing assets such as corporate and government bonds ('defensive' assets). Others aim to help increase your wealth over time through growth in the value of underlying investments such as shares and property ('growth' assets). Different types of assets have different types and levels of risk, and we cover this on pages 2 to 3.

Funds can also be divided into those that give you exposure mainly to a single asset class, known as 'sector-specific', and those that invest in a strategic mix of assets to provide you with both income and capital growth, called 'diversified' or 'multi-sector' funds.

As an investor, the return you receive from a managed fund is the combination of any income you receive from regular distributions plus any movement (up or down) in the price of units in the fund (the 'unit price'). This is called the fund's 'total return'. The historical returns for the Fund can be found in the Fund's profile on page 4.

It's important to realise that the unit price of most managed funds can go up and down in line with the value of their underlying investments. We take a closer look at the risks of investing on pages 2 to 3.

Making the right choice

Everybody's financial circumstances vary. For this reason, a qualified financial adviser is the best person to help you decide whether the Fund will suit your needs. You should also review your investment regularly as part of your overall investment strategy, taking into account current economic conditions and your financial situation.

Principally, what's right for you will depend on how long you have to invest (often referred to as your 'investment horizon'), whether you have a need for regular income and/or capital growth, and your tolerance for risk. One of the keys to successful investing is to choose investments with a level of risk you are comfortable with.

If you have any questions about this, you should contact your financial adviser, call us on freecall 1800 813 500 or email us at info@au.invesco.com.

Understanding risk

Types of risk

Investing in the right managed fund or funds can be a smart way to achieve your financial goals. However, it's important to be aware that all investments are associated with some level of risk; it's unavoidable. Managed funds are no different.

With investing, risk refers to the likelihood that you will not end up with as much money as you started with when you invested initially. In other words, risk is the chance you take of making or losing money on your investment. Generally, the greater the risk, the more you stand to gain or lose.

The value of your investment in the Fund is not guaranteed. In line with its underlying investments, the unit price of the Fund and therefore the value of your investment can go up and down. Further, the amount of any income distribution you receive from the Fund could vary or be irregular.

Volatility is a word often used to describe risk and is a measure of how much the value of an investment fluctuates. The higher the volatility of an investment, the higher the risk that the value of an investment moves up and down over time.

The table below outlines the most common types of investment risks.

Type of risk	Description
Security-specific risk	The risk associated with a particular security
Market risk	The risk that relates to an investment market as a whole
Credit risk	The risk of suffering loss owing to another party defaulting on its financial obligations
Liquidity risk	The risk that an investment may not be easily converted into cash with little or no discount to the last known market value and minimum delay
Interest rate risk	The risk that a change in interest rates can have a positive or negative impact, directly or indirectly, on investment value or returns
Currency risk	The risk of incurring losses in relation to the value of overseas investments, as a result of movements in currency exchange rates
Fund risk	The risk that the fund terminates, that the fees and expenses increase, or that the investment manager changes. There is also a risk that investing in a fund may give different results than investing directly because of income or capital gains accrued in the fund, and the consequences of investments and withdrawals by other investors
Derivatives risk	The risk that derivatives do not accurately match the valuations of the underlying physical securities on which they are based
Foreign exchange hedge risk	The risk that hedging instruments do not accurately match the currency exposures of the funds assets
Counterparty risk	The risk that a counterparty to an asset of a fund, such as a derivative instrument, is unable to meet its obligations under that instrument
Legal risk	The risk of changes to laws that may affect your investment
Taxation risk	The risk of changes to the taxation of your investment that may affect its value either directly or indirectly

The relationship between risk and return

Historically, there has been a clear link between the return an investment generates and the level of risk. Put simply, the greater the expected return from an investment, typically the greater the expected risk. This is known as the 'risk-return trade-off'.

Over time, 'growth' assets such as shares and property have generally produced higher long-term returns, but in the short term they tend to be more volatile. Consequently, they are more likely to deliver negative returns in some years.

'Defensive' assets such as bonds and cash, on the other hand, typically produce lower returns for investors over the long term but typically experience less volatility in the short term.

It follows then that when managed funds invest in different combinations of growth and defensive assets, their risk and return characteristics change. This is reflected in a fund's 'risk profile'. Funds with a greater allocation to growth assets should generally give you higher long-term returns and greater short-term volatility. Conversely, funds investing in a higher proportion of defensive assets will generally produce lower but steadier returns over time.

Managing fund risk

At Invesco, managing risk is integral to our approach to managing investments. Our investment processes are designed to ensure we manage risk on a number of levels. This does not mean the Fund is risk free; rather, that the level of risk is appropriate in relation to the objective and strategy of the Fund.

Possible ways to reduce risk

Although it is not possible to eliminate investment risk entirely, there are two common strategies for minimising the effect of the risk you are exposed to as an investor:

- Diversification - by holding a diversified portfolio that invests across different asset classes, markets, or securities, you can reduce the impact of any one investment performing poorly. Spreading your investment is known to be one of the most effective ways of increasing your potential for greater risk adjusted returns by smoothing out the volatility of your investment over time.
- Investing for the long term - keeping a longer-term investment perspective gives you a better chance of reaching your financial goals by allowing you to 'ride out' short-term market fluctuations.

The Fund

Objective

To provide distributions in line with the prevailing bank bill rate, while managing liquidity and security of capital by investing in short-term money market securities.

Benchmark

We manage the Fund against the UBS Australian Bank Bill Index.

Investment approach

The Fund invests in prime quality short-term money market securities issued or guaranteed by the Commonwealth Government or rated AAA, A-1+ or A-1 by a recognised rating agency.

The Fund does not currently use financial derivatives. However, in the future it may invest in financial futures contracts, excluding options.

We rate the Fund as a low risk fund. A table detailing the common types of investment risks can be found under the heading "Understanding risk" on page 2.

The Fund is not designed as a short-term investment and we recommend a minimum investment timeframe of one year.

*Value of $1,000 invested from 31 December 1990 (Fund performance inception date) to 31 March 2011 was $3,085.

Performance data is shown after ongoing fees and expenses and assumes reinvestment of income distributions. Investment values can go up and down. Past returns are not a reliable indicator of future returns. Future returns may be affected by a range of factors including those discussed under the heading 'Understanding risk'.

You can obtain the latest performance information at www.invesco.com.au, or by calling Invesco on freecall 1800 813 500 Monday to Friday, 8.30am to 5.00pm Melbourne time, or you can email info@au.invesco.com.

Actual returns from investing in the Fund through an IDPS may be different to investing directly due to the addition of any fees and expenses paid by you to your IDPS.

Transacting with Invesco

Important information

If you intend to invest directly in the Fund, the following sections apply to you.

If you are investing via an IDPS such as a master fund or wrap account, you should read the disclosure document issued by the IDPS in conjunction with this PDS. The IDPS disclosure document will explain to you the way your investment is administered, your rights, obligations and liabilities, and any other important information. Further information regarding investments made via an IDPS is provided in the 'Indirect or IDPS investors' section on page 13.

Initial and additional investments

Your initial investment cheque must accompany the application and client identification form(s) which are attached to this PDS and supporting documentation. We may accept your application without the client identification documents being completed. However we cannot make any payments (withdrawals, distributions or return of investment under 'cooling-off' rights) to you, until the correct client identification documents have been received by us. The client identification forms are also available on our website at www.invesco.com.au.

For initial and additional investments, your cheque must be from an account held in your name or the name of an Australian financial institution (such as a bank cheque). Cash or cheques from third party accounts will not be accepted. The minimum initial investment in the Fund is $10,000.

If your payment in respect of an application for units is dishonoured or if we do not receive full payment on the date of application for any reason and Invesco has initiated the investment of that application, Invesco will be entitled to reverse those investments and you will be liable to Invesco or the Fund for any loss or damage suffered as a consequence of the dishonoured or failed payment.

At our discretion, we can accept or reject your application for units in whole or in part.

Monthly Savings Plan

You can set up a Monthly Savings Plan and invest as little as $100 per month once you have made an initial investment. Your monthly contribution is automatically deducted from your nominated Australian bank, building society or credit union account on or about the 21st calendar day of each month.

To set up a Monthly Savings Plan, read the direct debit service agreement on page 16 and indicate your preference on the application form.

Making a withdrawal

To withdraw all or part of your investment, you need to send us a request detailing the amount, in units or dollars, and the preferred method of payment: either by cheque posted to your nominated address; or by electronic payment to your Australian bank, building society or credit union account. Alternatively, if pre-arranged you can make withdrawals using your Personal Identification Number ('PIN') – see 'Instructions sent by facsimile or telephone' on page 7.

We may also determine that your withdrawal includes an income distribution component. For more information please refer to the 'Distributions' section on page 9.

Withdrawal requests may not be accepted by us where client identification requirements are incomplete.

Further information regarding the timing of withdrawals and our powers to suspend payment is under the heading 'Timing of withdrawal payments' on page 14.

Switching between Funds

Invesco manages a number of Wholesale Funds that you can switch between. If switching between Wholesale Funds, you must switch at least $20,000 if you wish to establish a new Wholesale Fund investment. The minimum amount you can switch between Funds is $500 (subject to minimum balance). Please call freecall 1800 813 500 or visit our website for a copy of our PDS that details the full range of funds that Invesco currently has on offer.

A switch involves a withdrawal from one Fund and an investment in another Fund, and therefore in most cases there will be a delay between the date of withdrawal and date of reapplication. As a result the unit price applicable for the reapplication will generally be for a subsequent Business Day to the effective date used for the withdrawal. Any buy/sell margins will be applied. A switch may have tax consequences. Your distribution preference will carry over unless you advise otherwise.

Minimum balance

The minimum balance that may be invested in the Fund is $10,000. We can increase this minimum amount after giving you notice.

If your withdrawal causes your investment holding to fall below the minimum balance amount, we may, after giving you 30 days' notice, compulsorily redeem all of your units and pay the proceeds to you.

Transfers

You can transfer units to another person provided certain formal requirements relating to the form, execution and delivery of the transfer form and any legal requirements are met. At our discretion, we can refuse to register a transfer. The same client identification information as required for a new investor will be required for the person to whom a transfer is made. Transfer requests will not be accepted by us where client identification requirements are incomplete.

A transfer may have tax consequences.

Instructions sent by post

You or your authorised representative should direct all correspondence to Invesco Australia Ltd, Reply paid 4986, Melbourne, Victoria 8060.

Instructions sent by facsimile or telephone

Telephone instructions are available only to direct investors and not to IDPS investors.

To be able to give us instructions by telephone, you need to complete section 5 of the application form when making your initial investment. We will then issue you with a Personal Identification Number ('PIN') to use over the telephone. We reserve the right to add further identification requirements at any time.

For details of the instructions we can accept by telephone using your PIN, please call us on freecall 1800 813 500. Please note that we cannot accept initial or additional applications by telephone or by facsimile.

If you choose to instruct us by telephone, quoting your PIN, or by facsimile, you release us from any claims and indemnify us against all losses and liabilities arising from any payment or action we make based on instructions (even if not genuine) that we receive and reasonably believe are genuine.

You also agree that neither you, nor anyone claiming through you, have any claim against Invesco or the Fund in relation to these payments or actions.

Please be careful. There is a risk that fraudulent requests can be made by someone who has access to your account information. You must keep your PIN confidential and not disclose it to anyone else.

Acceptance of instructions

A valid instruction:

- clearly identifies you and your account;
- tells us exactly what you want us to do;
- is received by us via post or other methods you have previously agreed to (facsimile or telephone); and
- is authorised in accordance with your previous instructions and our procedures.

Once we have received a valid and complete instruction, you cannot cancel that instruction except in the case of exercising any cooling-off rights (see page 14).

We will not accept an incomplete application. If your application is incomplete, we will deposit your application funds into a trust account until the application form is completed. Application funds will be held in the trust account for a maximum of 30 days, and any interest accrued on the account will become part of the assets of the Fund. If after 30 days we have not received your completed application form, we will return the funds to you unless we are not satisfied with your client identification material.

Timing of transactions

If we accept your valid instruction before 10.00am on a Business Day, units will be issued (or withdrawn) on that Business Day. If we accept your valid instruction on or after 10.00am on a Business Day, units will be issued (or withdrawn) on the next Business Day. The cut off time is determined by reference to Melbourne time.

If you are investing via an IDPS, the timing for processing and pricing a transaction by the IDPS operator will depend on its administration and may be different to the timing set out above.

Suspension of redemptions

Under the Fund constitution we may suspend redemptions in our absolute discretion for a period of up to 60 days.

Entitlement to income

If you are applying for units, income attributable to these units will accrue from the Business Day your units are issued.

If you are withdrawing units from the Fund, income attributable to these units will accrue up to, but not including, the Business Day your units are withdrawn.

If the Fund is not liquid (as that term is defined in the Corporations Act 2001) investors may only withdraw units if we have made a withdrawal offer to investors under the terms of the Corporations Act 2001. It is expected that the Fund will continue to be liquid at all times.

Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing

In addition to client identification information and documents required with your application, we may require further information or documentation from you at any time in order to satisfy our obligations under Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing legislation.

Withdrawals, distributions or transfers may not be processed if we do not receive further information or documents reasonably requested.

Unit prices and the value of your investment

Unit prices

The entry unit price is $1.00. The exit unit price is $1.00, adjusted to reflect the aggregate entitlement to income (if negative) for that unit.

Entitlement to income

If you withdraw all of your units in the Fund, your entitlement to income, if any, will be distributed with your withdrawal amount.

If you withdraw a portion of your units in the Fund, your entitlement to income, if any, in respect of any units withdrawn will be distributed to you at the earlier of:

- the time of the next normal distribution of entitlements to income;
- at the withdrawal of your remaining investment in the Fund.

Value of your investment

The value of your investment (excluding accrued but unpaid income) is equal to the number of units you hold. For example, if you own 10,050 units, the value of your investment is $10,050.

Distributions

Distributions are made up of income received by the Fund.

Frequency of income distributions

The Fund may distribute quarterly for the periods ending 30 June, 30 September, 31 December and 31 March and at other times as determined by us. In the event that the Fund's realised losses and other expenses exceed its income in a distribution period, the Fund may not distribute income for that period.

Distribution calculation

Your entitlement to the distribution for the relevant period is calculated daily and is based on the number of units you held at the end of each business day during the period. Distributions are typically paid within 10 Business Days, but may take longer at the end of the financial year.

Invesco and other members of the Invesco Ltd group of companies do not guarantee the declaration and quantum of any distribution.

Payment

You can choose to have your distributions:

- automatically reinvested in additional units; or
- paid directly to your nominated Australian bank, building society or credit union account.

Simply tick the appropriate box in section 7 of the application form to make your choice. If you do not make a choice, we will automatically reinvest your income.

Reinvestment of income will be processed on the first Business Day following the end of the relevant distribution period. You may change your distribution preference at any time by notifying us in writing. If we do not receive your notice 30 days prior to a distribution, it may not be effective for that distribution, although it will be effective for subsequent distributions.

If we believe your distribution has not been received and we are unable to contact you, we can reinvest your distribution until you tell us otherwise.

Distributions will be reinvested where client identification requirements are incomplete.

Fees and expenses

Fees and other costs

The table on page 11 shows the fees and other costs you may be charged in connection with your investment. These fees and costs may be deducted from your account balance or from the returns on your investment, or from the Fund assets as a whole. Taxes are not included and are set out in the Taxation section of this PDS.

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your Fund balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or to see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the ASIC website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a Managed Investment Fee Calculator to help you check out different fee options.

You should read all of the information about fees and costs, as it is important to understand their impact on your investment in the Fund. From time to time, we may increase the fees charged to your investment (up to the maximum amount) on 30 days' prior notice to you or, if you are investing through an IDPS, to your IDPS.

We may waive or defer our entitlement to any fees or expenses payable without giving any notice.

If you are investing via an IDPS, you should read the relevant disclosure document issued by the IDPS in conjunction with this PDS. You should note that any fees that you pay to the IDPS operator will be in addition to the fees listed on the following pages.

Type of fee or cost	Amount ¹	How and when paid
Fees when your money moves in or out of the Fund
Establishment fee The fee to open your investment.	nil	Not applicable
Contribution fee The fee on each amount contributed to your investment.	nil	Not applicable
Withdrawal fee² The fee on each amount you take out of your investment	nil	Not applicable
Termination fee The fee to close your investment.	nil	Not applicable
Management costs
The fees and costs for managing your investment ²	0.156% per annum (i.e. $1.56 per $1,000 investment)	Calculated and accrued daily and paid monthly in arrears from Fund assets, this fee is for the Manager's investment management services.
	plus
	0.308% per annum (i.e. $3.08 in fees per $1,000 invested) ³	Calculated and accrued daily and paid monthly in arrears from Fund assets, this fee is for Fund administration services.
Additional services and fees
Switching fee The fee for changing investment options	nil	Not applicable

- 1 The Constitution for the Fund entitles us to charge higher fees than actually charged (as disclosed in this table). See the Fee changes section on page 12.
- 2 These fees are inclusive of GST and net of the reduced input tax credits applicable.
- 3 This fee can change without prior notice.

Example of annual fees and costs

This table provides an example of how the fees and costs for the Fund can affect your investment over a one-year period. You should use this table to compare this product with other investment products.

Example	Wholesale Funds	Balances of $50,000 with a contribution of $5,000 during the year
Contribution fees	0%	For every additional $5,000 you put in you will be charged nil.
Plus Management and Administration fees	Estimated to be 0.464%	And, for every $50,000 you have in the Fund you will be charged $232.00 each year.
Equals cost of fund		If you had an investment of $50,000 and you contributed an additional $5,000 midway through the year, then for that year you would be charged fees of $243.60. *

* This figure assumes that contributions are received midway through the year and that there are no investment market movements on either the account value of $50,000 or the additional contribution.

How much do I pay?

The Management Expense Ratio ('MER') is a measure of the total ongoing fees and expenses (but not transaction costs such as brokerage) payable from the Fund, expressed as a percentage of the average Fund size over the measurement period.

The table below shows the MER of the Fund for the previous three financial years ending 30 June. It also shows the effect of the MER on a $20,000 investment for one year, based on the assumption that the MER for that period is the same as at 30 June 2010. All figures are inclusive of GST and net of any applicable Reduced Input Tax Credits.

MER for year to 30 June	2010 %	For a $20,000 investment ($)	2009 %	2008 %

Additional fee information

Fee changes

We will increase the fees for management services only after providing 30 days' notice.

Reimbursement of Fund expenses

The constitution for the Fund allows us to be reimbursed out of the Fund's assets for certain expenses incurred by us on behalf of the Fund.

Differential fees

We may rebate fees to certain 'wholesale clients' as defined in the Corporations Act 2001. These arrangements are subject to compliance with legal requirements and any applicable ASIC relief.

Employees of Invesco or its related companies are entitled to a rebate or part rebate of the management fees on investments made in the Fund contained in this PDS. Some conditions will apply. The rebate does not apply to the Fund's administration service fee or any performance fee if applicable.

Any rebates are not an extra cost to the Fund as we pay them from our own sources.

Commissions

We pay from our own monies, commissions, product access payments and other fees of a similar nature, to third parties for services provided to us, including the distribution, promotion or sale of units in the Fund through an IDPS.

We may pay soft commission to brokers who allocate part of the commission they receive from us to pay for the supply of investment-related products and services to us. We will only use products or services provided in this way where we believe they can reasonably be expected to assist in the provision of investment services to the Fund and/or assist in the performance of investment decision-making.

Underlying funds

Where the Fund invests in other underlying funds also managed by Invesco, fees charged in the underlying funds managed by us are refunded.

Other information about the Fund

Indirect or IDPS investors

Invesco authorises the use of this PDS as disclosure to investors or prospective investors in an IDPS.

If you are investing in the Fund through an IDPS, you do not acquire the rights of a direct unitholder of the Fund. Unitholder rights are acquired by the IDPS operator. You must read the disclosure document for the IDPS in conjunction with this PDS prior to directing the relevant operator or custodian, or their nominee, to invest in the Fund on your behalf. Your rights and liabilities will be set out in the relevant disclosure document available from the IDPS.

If you invest in the Fund through an IDPS, you should read all references in this PDS to 'unitholders' as references to the custodian of the IDPS.

Our role, obligations and rights

Invesco is the responsible entity of the Fund. Our duties and obligations to unitholders are imposed, and our functions and powers conferred, by the Fund constitution, the Corporations Act 2001 and general law.

We may create separate classes of units within the Fund to which different rights or obligations attach. If we do, we will treat unitholders of different classes fairly.

We may retire as responsible entity of the Fund. Part of the procedure involves the calling of a meeting of unitholders to explain the reason for wanting to retire.

Service providers

We have appointed professional service providers to perform certain functions in relation to the Fund. We are responsible for monitoring the performance of these service providers and may change providers from time to time.

National Australia Bank Limited trading as NAB Asset Servicing ('NAS'), an independent custodian, holds the assets of the Fund. Where the Fund invests via an underlying fund, the custodian of the underlying fund is NAS.

We have also outsourced certain Fund administration functions to NAS, including trading administration, unit registry, unit pricing, and some accounting functions.

The constitution

The Fund constitution sets out the terms and conditions under which it operates, as well as many of the rights, liabilities, duties and obligations of unitholders and Invesco. It also sets out the manner in which unitholder meetings are convened and conducted.

We may vary or amend the constitutions without the approval of unitholders where we reasonably consider the change will not adversely affect unitholders' rights. Amendments to the law governing managed investments and relevant ASIC relief can also affect the provisions of the constitution.

We will send you a copy of the constitution (and any amendments made) upon your request and payment of such fee as we are legally entitled to receive and consider reasonable.

Your liability

Your liability is limited by the constitution to your investment in the Fund. However, because the courts have not finally determined this matter, we cannot give absolute assurance in this regard. You are also liable to indemnify Invesco for any duties, taxes and charges referable to you.

Continuous disclosure documents

Each Fund that is a ('disclosing entity') under the Corporations Act is subject to certain regular reporting and disclosure obligations. Copies of documents lodged with ASIC in relation to such a fund may be obtained from or inspected at an ASIC office.

As an investor in a Fund that is a disclosing entity, you may obtain the following documents from us:

- the half-yearly and annual report most recently lodged with ASIC by us in respect of the Fund; and
- any continuous disclosure notices given by us in respect of the Fund after the lodgement of the abovementioned annual report and before the date of this PDS.

We will send you a printed or electronic copy of any of the above documents free of charge within five days of receiving your request.

Termination

The Fund terminates after 80 years from its start date but may be terminated earlier either by Invesco notifying you of the date of termination or by extraordinary resolution at a duly convened meeting of Fund unitholders.

Upon termination of the Fund, we must sell the property of the Fund and distribute the proceeds of sale, less all proper expenses and any tax liability, among unitholders of the Fund on a pro rata basis.

Timing of withdrawal payments

Withdrawal requests are normally paid within 10 days of receipt of the request. Subject to our right to suspend withdrawals or where the Fund is not liquid, we must honour a valid withdrawal request within 30 days of receipt.

We can, at our discretion, stagger and/or suspend withdrawals from the Fund for a period of up to 60 days. If we:

- stagger withdrawals, the exit unit price will be that applicable for the day the units are actually withdrawn; and
- suspend withdrawals, the unit price applicable will be the exit unit price applicable for the first Business Day after the period of suspension ends.

If the Fund is not liquid (as that term is defined in the Corporations Act 2001), investors may only withdraw units if Invesco has made a withdrawal offer to investors under the terms of the Corporations Act 2001. It is expected that the Fund will continue to be liquid at all times.

Withdrawal requests may not be accepted by us where client identification requirements are incomplete.

Environmental, ethical and social considerations

In making investment decisions, we may take into account environmental, ethical or social issues and labour standards to the extent they may affect the performance of investments. However, we do not have a policy of selecting or realising investments based specifically on such issues and standards.

Borrowing

The Fund is permitted to borrow without limitation. The Fund may also give security for borrowing over any of its assets.

We do not intend to borrow or raise money in connection with the Fund for investment purposes. However, from time to time, temporary borrowing may occur for administrative purposes, such as to cover timing differences between settlements of sales and purchases of underlying securities, and funding withdrawals. The cost of such borrowing will be an expense of the Fund.

We will provide 30 days' written notice of any change in this policy.

Cooling-off period

If you invest less than $500,000 and are not a 'wholesale client' as defined in the Corporations Act 2001, you have a 14-day 'cooling-off' period in which to decide if the investment you have made is right for you.

The cooling-off period commences on the earlier of:

- the date you receive confirmation of your investment; and
- five days after your units were issued.

The amount of any refund is calculated using the entry unit price of $1.00 and is adjusted for non-refundable tax and duties and any reasonable transaction costs. As a result, the amount refunded may be greater or less than the amount initially invested.

Cooling-off rights will not apply where units are issued pursuant to a switch, a savings plan, as part of a distribution reinvestment arrangement, or where you invest indirectly via an IDPS.

Complaints

You should notify us in writing if you have a complaint. We will acknowledge receipt of your complaint and endeavour to resolve it within 45 days, in accordance with the constitution and compliance plan of the Fund. We will write to you to explain our decision and any further avenues of recourse.

Invesco is a member of the Financial Ombudsman Service Limited ('FOS'), an independent body established to resolve complaints in the financial services industry. If we have not resolved your complaint within a reasonable time or you are not satisfied with our determination of your complaint, you can refer the matter to FOS for resolution. Contact details are: the Financial Ombudsman Service Limited, GPO Box 3, Melbourne Vic 3001; phone 1300 780 808.

If you are investing in the Fund through an IDPS, you must make any complaints in relation to an investment in the Fund in accordance with the arrangements for the relevant IDPS.

Privacy policy

We have a privacy policy that covers the use of your personal information. You can obtain a copy of our privacy policy from our website (www.invesco.com.au), by calling us on freecall 1800 813 500 or by emailing us at info@au.invesco.com.

Except in the following circumstances we will not tell anyone any information that we have about you:

- where you have consented;

- where we consider that your adviser or the dealership group for which they work needs the information;
- where someone from the Invesco Ltd group accesses that information for sales and marketing reasons, including providing you with information about other products and services; or
- where one of our outsourced service providers needs the information.

The types of outsourced service providers that may be provided with your personal information and the circumstances in which your personal information may be shared include:

- administrators who provide fund accounting, unitholder registry and other services to Invesco;
- printers and other companies for the purposes of preparing and distributing statements and handling mail;
- market research companies for the purposes of analysing the Invesco investor base, and product development and planning; and
- legal and accounting firms, auditors, contractors, consultants and other advisers for the purpose of administering and advising on the product and for any associated actions.

If you think our records are wrong or out of date - particularly your address, email address or adviser - it is important you write to us for us to correct them.

You can always access the personal information we hold about you - just contact us.

Your contact details

It is important you provide us with any changes to your contact details as soon as possible. If we are not advised of a change and are not able to locate you, we may deduct the costs of locating or attempting to locate you from your investment. If we are unable to locate you, we may reinvest distributions on your investments, even if you have not elected to have distributions reinvested. If we are unable to locate you, we may also be required to pay some or all of your investment to a government authority.

Authorised representative

We will accept instructions from your authorised representative if you provide their details in section 4 on the application form. You can cancel the appointment of your representative at any time by advising us in writing.

If you instruct us to accept instructions from your authorised representative, you release us from any claims and indemnify us against all losses and liabilities arising from any payment or action we make based on instructions (even if not genuine) that we receive and reasonably believe are genuine.

You also agree that neither you, nor anyone claiming through you, have any claim against Invesco or the Fund in relation to these payments or actions.

Please be careful. There is a risk that fraudulent requests can be made by someone who has access to your account information.

Direct debit service agreement

Direct debit arrangements

- 1 By signing a direct debit request, you have authorised us to arrange for money to be debited from your account.
- 2 We reserve the right to charge a transaction fee if any debit item already debited from your nominated account is returned as unpaid by the financial institution.
- 3 We will keep the information about your nominated account at the financial institution private and confidential unless we require this information to investigate a claim made on it relating to an alleged incorrect or wrongful debt, or as otherwise required by law.
- 4 Direct debits normally occur around the 21st day of a month (the 'debit day'). If the debit day falls on a day that is not a Business Day, we may direct your financial institution to debit your account on the following Business Day.
- 5 We will advise you 14 days in advance of any changes to the direct debit arrangements and this agreement.

Your rights

- 6 If you wish to terminate or vary the direct debit arrangements, you must do so 14 days in advance of the next debit day.
- 7 You may terminate the direct debit arrangement with us or vary the amount debited by advising us in writing.
- 8 Where you consider there has been an error in debiting your account, you should raise the matter with us on freecall 1800 813 500.

Your responsibilities

- 9 It is your responsibility:
 - to check with the financial institution where your account is held before completing the direct debit request (DDR) as direct debiting through the Bulk Electronic Clearing system is not allowed on the full range of accounts. You should also complete your account details - including Bank State Branch (BSB) number - directly from a recent account statement from your financial institution;
 - to ensure that the authorisation to debit the nominated account is in the same name as the person signing the instruction held by the financial institution where the account is held;
 - to advise us if the account you have nominated to debit is transferred or closed; and
 - to ensure that suitable arrangements are made if the direct debit is cancelled:
 - by you;
 - by your nominated financial institution; or
 - for any other reason.
- 10 It is your responsibility:
 - to ensure sufficient cleared funds are available in the nominated account to meet the debit on the due settlement date of your transactions executed by us;
 - in the event of a debit returned unpaid, to arrange for the debit payment to be made by another method or arrange for sufficient cleared funds to be in your account by an agreed time so we can process the debit payment;
 - to pay any fee and/or interest charged by your financial institution.
- 11 If we are liable to pay GST in connection with this agreement, then you agree to pay us, on demand, an amount equal to the consideration payable for the supply, multiplied by the prevailing GST rate.

Taxation

The following information summarises some of the taxation issues that may arise from an investment in the Fund. It relates to Australian resident investors only and is based on information that is current at the date of issue of this offer document.

Given the complexity of tax legislation, it is strongly recommended you consult your tax adviser to assess the implications for your specific situation.

Tax position of the Fund

It is our intention to distribute at least the taxable income of the Fund, so that the Fund does not pay income tax.

If the Fund incurs an overall loss for tax purposes for any given year, that loss cannot be distributed to unitholders. Subject to meeting certain tests, the loss may be taken into account in determining the taxable income of the Fund in future years.

It is expected that gains and losses on the disposal of the underlying investments of the Fund (other than certain investments such as fixed interest securities) will be assessed under the CGT provisions of the income tax legislation. Net capital gains realised by the Fund, including the CGT Concession Amount, will be distributed to unitholders.

Taxation of unitholders

You will be assessed on the share of the Fund's taxable income to which you are presently entitled. This assessment occurs whether you receive the Fund's distribution in cash or your distribution is reinvested in additional units. Taxable distributions should be included in your taxable income in the year to which the distribution relates.

Where net capital gains are distributed, it may be possible for you to offset such net capital gains against any realised capital losses you may have incurred on the disposal of units in the Fund, or on the disposal of other investments. Amounts attributable to the CGT Concession Amount will not reduce the cost base of your investment for CGT purposes.

Distributions from the Fund may entitle unitholders to franking credits and/or foreign tax credits. Distributions from a Fund that invests in property trusts may include tax deferred amounts.

A distribution statement will be issued by the Fund to all unitholders and will include a tax statement disclosing all relevant tax information to be included in your income tax return.

Acquisition and disposal of units

Under the Capital Gains Tax ('CGT') provisions, when you dispose of your units, whether by withdrawal, switching or transferring units, you may be liable to pay tax on any gain. Certain unitholders may be liable to pay tax on any such gains as ordinary income.

Any capital loss arising on a disposal of units may be able to be offset against capital gains derived by you in that year or subsequent years.

Individuals, trusts and complying superannuation entities may obtain partial CGT exemptions in relation to the disposal of units, where the units have been held for more than 12 months.

Goods and Services Tax

GST is charged at a rate of 10% on taxable supplies. This may affect the return on your investments in the Fund. For investors, there are no direct GST consequences of either buying or selling units in the Fund. However, the Fund may incur GST in respect of various expenses and may not be entitled to full input tax credits in respect of all the GST it incurs.

Foreign income

Income earned by the Fund from investments outside Australia may be subject to taxation in the country where the income is sourced. For their share of foreign tax paid an Australian resident investor may be able to claim a foreign tax offset against their Australian tax liability.

Tax File Numbers and Australian Business Numbers

Unitholders may quote their Tax File Number ('TFN') or Australian Business Number ('ABN') (if applicable) in relation to their investment. It is not an offence to fail to quote a TFN or ABN, but if we are not notified of a TFN, ABN or exemption, tax must be withheld from distributions at the highest marginal rate plus the Medicare levy.

Exemption reasons for not quoting a TFN:

- 1 Taxpayers who receive specified social security pensions or benefits (including age, disability support, wife's, carer's, parenting payment, special needs and widow's 'B' pensions; special benefits; and pensions under the Veteran's Entitlements Act 1986).
- 2 Companies or unincorporated associations that are exempt from lodging tax returns and that do not have TFNs.
- 3 Non-resident taxpayers who are liable for non-resident withholding tax on dividends, interest or royalties from the investment, or whose income is exempt from Australian tax.

Invesco is required to obtain information and documents from you in relation to your identity. The basic information required from you is set out in the Application form and the Client Identification forms. Additional documents required from you are set out in the Completing your application section on page 19 of this PDS.
